Architectural Group International Announces New Partner

COVINGTON, KY – Award-winning Architectural Group International (AGI), a full service architectural and interior design firm headquartered in Covington, Kentucky has added esteemed Senior Project Architect David A. Thiel, Jr. as a partner in the fast-growing company effective January 1, 2008. Mr. Thiel is a member of the American Institute of Architects and the Ontario Association of Architects.

Although not new to the company, with his three years of exceptional work as Senior Project Architect with AGI, David A. Thiel, Jr. has headed up such projects as the Restless Planet Museum in Dubai, United Arab Emirates, the Thomas More College Athletic Complex in Crestview Hills, Kentucky, and the Tropicana Casino and Hotel in Atlantic City, New Jersey, among others.

With over sixteen years of architectural and design experience, Mr. Thiel will be an essential asset to AGI's planning services bringing leadership, strategic insight and communication skills. Aside from his award winning design ability, Mr. Thiel is a member of several community organizations. Currently, he is serving as a council member for the City of Crestview Hills, Kentucky, and the Kenny and Brian Williams Fund Board of Directors.

With the addition of Mr. M. Scott Layman as partner with the firm in August of 2007, and Mr. David A. Thiel, Jr., AGI has built an extraordinary team of innovative designers for this cutting edge company.

About AGI. Established in 1997, Architectural Group International provides a wide variety of design, documentation, and program management services for international retailers, developers, and franchisees. AGI promotes cutting edge design concepts that support clients' business goals and directives, providing flexible, unique, and lasting solutions.
